and Cathy and Neil in May

Hello All;

Hope everything is going well and that you are staying healthy. Vaccines are now available and we hope that you can get an appointment to get yours as soon as possible. If you use the Gov't registration site it is easy to follow until you reach the appointment schedule time. They list all the times but if the time slot you select is fully booked nothing happens. Just keep selecting time slots until you find a open slot and then it will tell you that it is booked. They should have hidden the time slots that were fully booked to make it less confusing.

Well, the club received some good news this week. We have been informed by the City that we will receive a $4000 Grant from them this year. It must be used to cover our expenses, it cannot be donated to groups that we support. I'm sure that we have lots of places it can go.

We are looking to setup another Zoom meeting but nothing has been firmed up yet. Will let you know.

If you would like to have something included in this newsletter please let me know. It is tough trying to do this when we are so inactive.

A priest, a minister, and a rabbi want to see who's best at his job. So they each go into the woods, find a bear, and attempt to convert it. Later they get together. The priest begins: "When I found the bear, I read to him from the Catechism and sprinkled him with holy water. Next week is his first communion." "I found a bear by the stream," says the minister, "and preached God's holy word. The bear was so mesmerized that he let me baptize him." They both look down at the rabbi, who is lying on a gurney in a body cast. "Looking back," he says, "maybe I shouldn't have started with the circumcision."

An Amish husband, wife and son travel to the city on vacation. They visit a shopping mall and while the mother is shopping, the father and son are standing in awe in front of an elevator (having no idea what it is). As they watch, an elderly lady walks into the strange silver doors and the doors close. The father and son watch as the numbers go up, and then back down. When the doors open, a beautiful young woman walks out. The father leans over and whispers to the son, "Son, go get your mother!"
